

In addition to my message to you earlier today,

Change is a challenging process, and with the departure of Deputy Minister Maria David-Evans, there will be a period of adjustment.

In spite of this, our focus remains on a vision of strong children, youth and families in Alberta. As staff in the Region, you continue to do a phenomenal job and I am proud of every achievement you make!

I would like to encourage all the staff to go to WorkLinks to read the message from the new Deputy Minister, Fay Orr.

I want to reiterate that our good work continues and whatever priorities the Premier sets out in the Minister's mandate letter will build on the progress we've already made.

Have a safe and happy weekend,

Lillian
